I would like to congratulate the DOJ's stellar work in bringing Microsoft to justice. By forcing the company to donate $1 billion dollars (in cash, equipment and software) you really hurt them. Oh wait, now that I think about it you actually just increased Microsofts market share dominance and hurt it's only viable competitor Apple Computer. It just goes to show you that if your a big corporation with unlimited resources, you can buy anything in this country including justice (and DOJ personel). Lets hear it for the good ol US of A!
